James Hoffman grew up working on his grandparent's dairy heifer replacement operation in Southeastern Pennsylvania. He became interested in registered dairy cattle through his county 4-H club at a very young age. James is a graduate of the Pennsylvania State University where he majored in Animal Sciences and Agribusiness Management. He also completed the Holstein Foundations Young Dairy Leaders Institute. James started his career working as a dairy nutritionist in Madison, Wisconsin where he also had the opportunity to work on farm and at shows with numerous show type and commercial herds. Currently James is a Territory Sales Manager for Corteva Agrisciences covering Western PA and NY. James shows regionally, at the All-American Dairy Show, and occasionally at World Dairy Expo and attends numerous shows every year. He breeds animals under his Tumbling Run Holsteins prefix. He and his wife Dr. Janelle Hoffman reside in Slippery Rock, PA with their sons Matthew, Andrew, Ethan, and new daughter Claire. James has judged many local, district, and state shows throughout the East-Coast.
